Subject: RE: EPA/MD Anvil/Biomist and PFAS Update

Good morning all,

I'm catching up after some time off last week, hope you've also had a good week.

I caught up with Beth on ongoing things last week. For today's 1 PM call with the Maryland Department of Ag (MDA) and Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE), now that MD is switching to Anvil from Biomist, I'm touching base on whether we might have speaker leads for the following topics. I've made some suggestions below in purple italics, apologies if I've missed any emails on this, still getting caught up!

Also, I'll kick-off the meeting with intros for EPA HQ, R3, and MDA & MDE. Any comments on the suggestions below, or additional topics to add?

- Status of the product packaging issues.
 - RD: Don't know if MD will continue want to discuss Biomist, but if they do – would touch on the Biomist product amendment. I understand MD is also asking for a letter from EPA stating there's no PFAS in Anvil, which we don't do, but understand there's consideration of posting Clarke's product amendment acceptance letter in PPLS – do we want to consider discussing that here or not yet ready for discussion?
 - BEAD: any info. on lab testing that can be shared – oil matrix methodology, etc. This could also be moved to the "General Check in on the PFAS topic" below.
- Maryland's operational needs for beginning applications, product availability, etc.
 - Opportunity for Maryland to provide info.
- General check in on the PFAS topic
 - Jeff D./RD: if appropriate, any updates on PFAS definition, EPA workgroup info.

Thanks,

Sandra O'Neill
